

‘I Can’t Go Out of my House Today’

Written by Daniel Jamieson and illustrated by Trina Bramman

I can't go out of my house today
I can't go north or south
So I'm travelling round the tasty way
I'm travelling round by mouth.

I went to the land of pizza pie
And swam in a lake of cheese
I sat upon the crusty beach
And fished for anchovies.

I climbed aboard a raft of toast
And lay on a bed of beans
I drifted on a sea of sauce
And dreamt of tangerines.

I danced in the land of biscuits
And jived with amaretti
I danced in the land of pasta
And twisted with spaghetti.

I rested on a jelly bed
And lay down under custard
I woke up on a sausage bed
My mouth was full of mustard.
