EMMANUEL HALL

HIRE INFORMATION

Emmanuel Hall is a beautiful building in the St Thomas area of Exeter close to the river and historic quayside. It was originally built as a hall for nearby Emmanuel Church in 1922.

Theatre Alibi are in the front rank of contemporary storytellers, creating new work for all ages that moves freely between the intimate and the epic. We play with what makes theatre unique – the live presence of an actor in front of an audience and integrate different art forms to help tell our stories including in recent years, animation, film, puppetry, photography and live music. Theatre Alibi performs regionally, nationally and internationally in a wide variety of places and spaces, from large theatres to village primary schools, so our work can be seen by people of all ages and backgrounds. Recent productions include I Believe in Unicorns (selected for the prestigious IPAY Showcase in Philadelphia), Hammer & Tongs, Goucher's War, Olive & the Dream Train, The Crowstarver, Bonjour Bob (shortlisted for the Brian Way Award for new writing), Cocco and Curiosity Shop.

Emmanuel Hall in Exeter is our home where we rehearse our shows, make costumes, props and puppets and have

We are a registered charity. We're very grateful to the Arts Council England and Exeter City Council who support our work but it's never quite enough and in the future it's likely to become much less. By hiring Emmanuel Hall you will be helping to support our work and enabling us to continue creating imaginative, original work for the broadest possible audience.
